

Congress of the United States
Washington, DC 20515

February 24, 2011

Dear Colleague:

The Congressional Research and Development Caucus would like to call your attention to an invitation you should have already received to a lunch briefing sponsored by OurEnergyPolicy.org:

Energy Innovation and American Competitiveness

Thursday, March 3, 2011 ~ Noon-1:30 PM. Lunch will be served
B340 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, DC
RSVP to MJordan@OurEnergyPolicy.org

Presenters/Panel Discussion

David Kreutzer, Research Fellow in Energy,
Economics and Climate Change, The Heritage Foundation

Nate Lewis, Director, U.S. DOE Innovation Hub;
Professor of Chemistry, CalTech

Mark Muro, Senior Fellow, Brookings Institute,
Co-Author, Post-Partisan Power

Yossie Hollander (Moderator), Founder & Chairman,
The Our Energy Policy Foundation

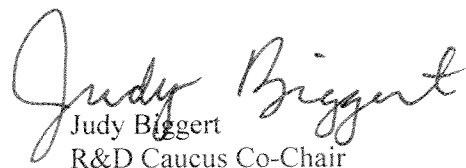

The role of government in energy innovation has been an increasingly discussed topic in policy circles, including several high profile reports published in 2010. The Obama Administration's Strategy for American Innovation, which strongly emphasizes energy innovation, calls for improved science and math education, more DOE Energy Innovation Hubs, greater support for ARPAE, smart grid development, and a reduction in American dependence on foreign energy. Much of the recent Congressional budget debate has centered around energy R&D.

Join Rep. Judy Biggert and Rep. Rush Holt, co-chairs of the Congressional Research and Development Caucus, for an expert discussion of energy innovation and American competitiveness. For more information visit <http://www.OurEnergyPolicy.org>

Sincerely,

Rush Holt
R&D Caucus Co-Chair

Judy Biggert
R&D Caucus Co-Chair

To join the Research and Development Caucus, please contact Will O'Neal in Rep. Holt's office at 5-5801 or Cade Clurman in Rep. Biggert's office at 5-3515.
For more information on the Caucus, see www.researchcaucus.org